THE VARSITY.

ST. JOE. — 58; RENSSELAER — 8.

Jan. 7. — Rensselaer tried to play with their usual vim, but it soon became evident that the old time fire was missing. The Reps were mindful of the fact that they suffered a defeat at the hands of Rensselaer last year so they were determined to blot out that mark. The feature of the game was the shooting of Beckman who made thirteen field baskets and Mc Ardle who made twelve.

ST. JOE — 17; Monticello H. S. — 24.

Jan. 12. — In a well played game St. Joe went down in defeat to the Monticello High School team at Monticello. The Varsity had good pass work but owing to the weight of the Monticello team, they were unable to hold their own in the second half. Yet in spite of this disadvantage, we do not for a moment doubt that the result of the next game will be sung to a different tune.

ST. JOE — 35; ST. VIATUER — 14.

Jan. 16. — In one of the cleanest and most exiting games that has ever been played in the Gymnasium, St. Viatuer's were defeated by the Varsity 35 to 14. The visitors were outplayed at every stage of the game. Moran and Winter completely broke up the passwork of the visitors while Beckman, McArdle and Deery piled in the baskets that redeemed the scalp St. Viatuer's had taken from us earlier in the season. Great credit is also due our popular rooting master, Ed. Schields, who made every effort possible in order to secure plenty of backing for our hard working Reps.

ST. JOE — 37; ST. CYRIL'S — 18.

Jan. 30. — Our Chicago visitors labored against great odds but they made a good effort to carry off the honors. Their passwork was good, but they were unable to locate the basket till near the close of the game, while the Varsity twirled the ball in with ease and precision that tell of ardent and preserving practice.

Juniors.

Cardinals — vs — Laurels.

Jan. 14. —The Laurels unwillingly surrendered the laurels to the Cardinals by a score of 40 to 23. To make the Junior League interesting it would be very well if the other teams would get a little spirit and ginger into themselves and not let the Cardinals always leave the floor crowned with victory.

Imperials — vs — Laurels.

Jan. 17. —Again the Laurels went down to defeat when they met the Imperials, who won the game by consistent passwork and good shooting. The score 25 to 20, reflects credit to both teams and leaves the victors but little to brag about.

Cardinals — vs — Blue Bells.

Jan. 17. —The Cardinals this time claimed the Blue Bells as their victims by the score of 42 to 19. The Cardinals can boast of some expert shots on their team, material for our future Varsity. Norbert Murphy and Chas. McDonald carried off the glory, these two scoring 36 points.

Juniors —32; Rensselaer Jrs. —13.

Jan. 21. —What proved to be a very interesting game in the first half but turned out to be a complete runaway in the latter period for the select Junior team. The Rensselaer youngsters deserve credit for their passwork and hearty efforts, for even when the College chaps were putting in one basket after another in rapid succession, the visitors kept at it with all the power they could bring into play. To point out the exceptional qualities in particular case would be almost impossible; for all the St. Joe chaps played their position with credit to themselves and with honor to their team.

Academic League.

Maroons—12; Eagles—8.

Jan. 16. —The Maroons and Eagles opened the Academic League with a good contest. The Eagles were in the lead at the end of the first half but before the time-keeper's whistle sounded the second time the Maroons had made their position secure by hard playing.

Senior League.

III. Latins—19; Seniors—14.

Jan. 17. —This game was to decide the present leader in the struggle for the pennant. Both teams were keyed up to the highest pitch and were out to win. The game was anybody's, see sawing back and forth till the final count. Sindelar the lanky center of the Latins contributed most of his teammates points. Close guarding by both sides as the score shows featured the game.

Schedule for the Leagues.

Jan. 24.	{ Cardinals vs. Laurels. Seniors vs. II. Latins; Eagles vs. Shamrocks; Midgets A and C.
Jan. 25.	III. Com. and II. Com.

Basket Ball and the Student.

There is certainly no dearth of activity in basket ball circles at the present time. With a Representative team that is sweeping everything before it and four leagues, ample opportunity is given to all who wish to indulge in this invigorating passtime. Yet with all this change for improvement of the physical powers, there are probably some who lose sight of the main advantages and look only to those that are transient. Of course a distinction at the close of the season is something worth working for, and it is the true spirit for every team to aspire to gain this coveted prize.

Yet the consistent student will not consider this the chief aim of sport but only a means. The development of the body and learning to curb oneself will also play an important part. If he wins he takes real pleasure in it, if he loses, he accepts defeat with good grace, and hopes for better the next time.

The same conduct should also characterize those who are spectators at a game. Do everything legitimate you can to help your class team, but if they lose, what's the use of thinking about it further? They did their best, but were outmatched by the opposing quintette. It is certainly folly to take an opposite course and bear ill-will against a fellow student because he was instrumental in causing your side to lose. You should rather take a reasonable pride in his skill, for after all, though we may be Classics, Normals or Commercial, of the first or the sixth year, what matter, we are all students of St. Joseph's and the ties which bind us into one great body should be so close that class strife can never, adversely, single out any, who, on account of superior skill, are really deserving of praise.

LOCALS.

Owing to the fact that the Basket-Ball season will not close till about the end of February it has been decided not to issue the Gym-Junk next week in order to have the last edition at the time the league closes. Last year the first edition of Gym-Junk was published on February 8th. three weeks later than this year, so you will easily understand that such a step at that time was unnecessary, but this year we think it to the best interest of all concerned.

Did you say that you don't know the locker number? Why, it's 202.

Oculist—Why doesn't he get his glasses in Rensselaer?

W. La Mair—He had his eyes tested by a dentist in Chicago.

Snyder (A traveling Agent) What is the size of your vocabulary?

Constant—Well, that's pretty hard to tell; there's one in the back of every book I have.

For the latest fad in hair cuts see the Sophomores.

Kennedy — Say, that Nick Huemmer called me a born idiot to-day.

Allen — Cheer up; it was kind of him to blame it on your forefathers.

Kruger — Say, Pete, what's that spot on your head?

Winter — That's my top-not; David forgot to cut it off.

Prof. — "What did the great philosopher Socrates teach."

Koisor — „Geography."
